MEDICINAL.

DECEPTION.

When the conjurer shows an empty hat, and at once begins to extract from it rabbits or cabbages, we know that we have been adroitly deceived, because we know we can't get out anything that isn't in it.

If people would only reason in that way about medicinal drugs they would be a great deal better off in health and pocket. A number of so-called "blood making" and "flesh forming" "tonic" medicines are only stimulants in disguise. You can't get strength out of a stimulant because strength is not in it. All physical strength is derived from the food digested and assimilated and in the form of blood nourishing the entire body. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does not make blood or make strength, no medicine can do that. But it does cure diseases of the stomach and its allied organs, and so causing the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, it enables the building of the body in sound and vigorous health.

"I can say to you one bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' has cured me sound and well after suffering two long years with stomach disease," writes W. H. Branswell, of McLean, Va. "I feel like a new man, and I owe it all to you. I will praise you as long as I live."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages, is given away. Send 21 one-cent stamps the expense of mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DUEL OVER A GIRL.

In a duel fought over a pretty young girl of New York two Italian youths were wounded and one of them now lies in the hospital, while the other has disappeared. The duel was fought on the India wharf, Brooklyn, and the weapons were pistols. Captain Walsh and detectives are looking for the missing duelist, who is described as being about twenty-eight or thirty years old. His name is not known, but he has a bullet wound in the left arm, his share of the result of the duel. Pasquale Tivolo, a merchant, the other party to the encounter, lies in the Long Island College Hospital with a bullet in his thigh. The two men were paying attention to the same young woman. Standing ten paces apart, the duellists exchanged two shots. Tivolo fired first and struck his adversary's arm. The latter fired and missed. There was another exchange of bullets, and this time his opponent shot Tivolo in the leg. Tivolo fell. His antagonist then walked up to him, shook his fist in the fallen man's face and muttered the woman's name.

MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT.—Dr. A. B.

Ryno has been arrested on a warrant sworn out at Galva, Kansas, for alleged connection with the shooting of Miss Maude Holmes. She was fatally wounded last Saturday night by someone, who fired a load of buckshot through her bedroom window. Dr. Ryno is 54 years old and has a family. He has lived in McPherson county 25 years. The doctor was overcome by his arrest and is in a state of collapse. He denies all knowledge of the shooting. There is no known motive for the crime. Miss Holmes belongs to one of the most prominent families in the community. Detectives have collected a mass of letters written to her before she was shot, dated at different places in McPherson county and signed in different writing. "One written at Galva had first been sent to the postmaster at Toledo, Ohio, who remained it. Another represented the writer to be a wealthy widower seeking a wife. The handwriting is said to correspond with specimens of Dr. Ryno's penmanship. When arrested Dr. Ryno was taken to the Holmes residence and identified as a man who had previously called there under the name of George A. Clark.

OIL FUEL FOR WARSHIPS.—Oil may

be adopted for coal fuel for naval vessels as a result of successful experiments made at the Washington navy yard. Rear-Admiral George W. Melville, engineer-in-chief of the navy, believes that in time a large number of the smaller ships will be using it and eventually coal will pass out of general use in the navy. Besides generating a quicker fire and giving a greater heat, oil, it is said, permits vessels to maintain a wider steaming radius and reduces considerably the cost of fuel. So far but little headway has been made by the merchant marine with its use, but the few vessels experimenting with it have found that oil is superior to coal in many respects, including less weight in proportion to the number of miles the ship steams. Today a special board will go to the Delaware Breakwater and inspect a tank steamer from the Beaumont (Texas) oil fields, which uses oil. It is one of the first ships to be so fitted out on the Atlantic. The success of this fuel will mean much to traffic on the Pacific, where the price of coal is double that on the Atlantic coast.

PERILS OF THE MINER.—The last annual report of James E. Roderick, Chief of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Mines, shows that in the production of bituminous coal in Pennsylvania last year 301 persons were killed and 659 injured. A large majority of these accidents occurred under ground and 72 per cent. of the victims were miners or their helpers. Mr. Roderick predicts in the report that if electricity is allowed to be used in gaseous mines it will eventually be the cause of terrible accidents. The report of Inspector Evans, who has charge of the district in which the Johnstown mines are situated, shows that at the last inspection the Rolling Mill mine was in good condition and that the company owning it complied with the law in regard to ventilation and other means of safety.

THIS DOG HAS HIS DAY.—"Any dog has a legal and undeniable right to bite any man, woman or child who purposely and with intent to disturb said dog's tranquility and peace of mind does attach or cause to be attached to said dog's tail a tin can or other weight which will impede the progress of said animal. A dog which bites its persecutor in such a case is acting purely and honestly in self-defence, and is as justly immune from punishment as a man who strikes a burglar in defence of his own life and welfare," said Judge Siderer in St. Louis, last Friday, in dismissing the case of the parents of Willie Quinn against Abram Simon, whose dog, Jupiter, had bitten the boy while

TWO-Y-FOUR COFFINS IN A CHURCH.

The funerals of twenty-four of the victims of the Cambria, Pa., mine disaster took place yesterday and a number of interments were postponed until today for convenience sake. All but four of them were from homes in Cambria, and the majority of these were from the Greek Catholic and St. Stephen's Catholic Churches. In the latter edifice yesterday morning twenty-four coffins were placed side by side. One by one, as a funeral was announced, the pallbearers would walk up the aisle, select the desired coffin or casket, and carry it to the house, or, in fact, almost every other sort of vehicle that had been pressed into the service. Many of the funeral corteges contained long lines of marching men and from four to six corpses. Two bands, composed entirely of foreigners, played funeral dirges on the way to the cemetery, but there were more funeral engagements than the bands were able to fill. Service out of reverence for the dead were held in most of the churches of Cambria yesterday and were very impressive.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and re-told by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entirely satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies." Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale by Richard Gibson, druggist.

MOTHER ALWAYS KEEPS IT HANDY.

"My mother suffered a long time from distressing pains and general ill health due primarily to indigestion," says E. W. Spalding, Verona, Mo. "Two years ago I got her to try Kodol. She grew better at once and now at the age of seventy-six, eats anything she wants, remarking that she fears no bad effects as she has her bottle of Kodol handy." Don't waste time doctoring symptoms. Go after the cause. If your stomach is sound your health will be good. Kodol rests the stomach and strengthens the body by digesting your food. It is nature's own tonic. For sale by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.
